Soldiers Break Guard House—Three soldiers under guard house sentence at Fort Omaha broke out of their quarters Tuesday night, escaped, going north. Their names were Milton, Morningstar and Harrison. Two of them wore khaki work clothes and the third civilian's clothes. The Omaha police have been notified of their escape.
Look Out for Those "Inspectors"—A man saying he was an inspector stole $2 worth of tools from the house at Eighth and Forest avenue Wednesday when he went there to inspect the plumbing. The Western Heating and Plumbing company, who owned the tools, think now that the "inspector" was an expert petty thief. They gave his description to the police.
Andy Gets Thirty Days' Vacation—Thirty days in jail was the term granted Andy Lock in police court Thursday morning. He is the colored gentleman who attempted to "show things" to Officer Augie Wednesday morning when the latter found him under arrest, but who was released from doing any harm with his hands by the exhibition of the policeman's cash-shooter.
Thief Takes Cash and Liquor—A thief who visited Galla's saloon at Ninth and Douglas streets Wednesday night did not miss the opportunity to stock up with some intoxicating bottled goods after he had pilfered the cash register of $6. When Galla opened for business Thursday morning two quart bottles of whiskey had disappeared with the money and a misplaced sheet of tin in a door panel told how the visitor had entered and left the place.
About Ready to Take a Rest—The case of Howard Brown, charged with robbing the postoffice at Waltham, is still on trial in the United States district court. Upon the conclusion of this case court will adjourn for the May term. None of the hand cases will be brought up for trial at this term, as was at first intended. Most of these will not be heard until the appeal in the Richards and Comstock cases is disposed of in the United States circuit court of appeals.
Cook in Picture Business—A bogus agent, claiming to be taking orders for picture frames for a big store, but really only making a collection for his own benefit, is said by the police to be operating in the city. They received a description of him from a woman in the northwest part of the city and are trying to arrest him. He is said to be about 25 years of age, five feet six inches in height, weighing 135 pounds and carrying a black cloth-covered frame.

Delayed Pleas of the Pen—Although he wanted a sentence to the penitentiary, according to his statement to the officers who arrested him, C. R. Hendricks has been denied that pleasure. He was discharged in police court Thursday morning when arraigned for embezzlement, his sister and brother having secured the matter with Ulysses Leado, the commission man, from whom Hendricks is said to have taken $61 last February. Hendricks lives at 83 South Eighteenth street.
Three Boys Held for Alleged Theft—For the burglary of White's repair shop, 835 North Sixteenth street, last November, three boys are being held by the police and juvenile officers, charged with incriminability. They are George Butler, a mulatto, Thirteenth and Burdette streets; Paul Holaday, colored, 205 Cuming street, and Mc-

Chellan Justus, a white boy. They are about 15 years of age. Some revolvers and bicycle lamps were taken when Gray's shop window was robbed. The goods have been recovered.
Long for Their Liberty—Tiring of walking the cinder-street path that is often the lot of city jail prisoners, Frank Coburn and John Ryan, two vagrants who were "doing time" for anti-water wagon activity decided to toss up their jobs and leave free meals and lodging behind them at Jailer Ryan's hostelry. So when their guard was admiring the beautiful weather Thursday morning they quietly dropped their wheelbarrows and "mashed". At last reports they were enjoying a little stroll far from the maddening cinder pile.
Gets Into the Wrong House—Arrested as a burglar Tuesday night and fined $5 and costs for drunkenness Thursday morning, Dick Hault has decided that hereafter, when he goes home late he will not let his head of liquid freight overbalance his supply of gray matter and get him into the wrong house. He was taken from C. A. Lagaston's home, 296 Nicholas street, about midnight Tuesday and was supposed to have been trying to rifle the place. After he was in jail for a day and a half it was found that he had merely committed the indiscretion of mistaking another man's house for his own.
Neal Jury Does Not Agree—The jury in the case of the United States against Herbert Neal, after being out twenty-four hours, was unable to reach an agreement and was discharged shortly after noon Thursday by Judge W. H. Munger. Neal was on trial for sending nonmailable matter through the United States mails. He was arrested in jail for a day and a half during the present week. He was a resident of Doniphan and was charged with sending some off-color valentines to friends which were hardly of a character to permit the United States mail to carry such with good, respectable valentines.

SPRINGER ON AFRICAN MISSION
Missionary Convassant for Funds is Giving Interesting Account of Work.
Rev. J. M. Springer, missionary to Rhodesia and Central Africa, delivered an interesting illustrated lecture upon the African mission field at Hanson Park Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday evening. The lecture was well received and attracted a large audience.
Mr. Springer called attention to the fact that the present year marks the diamond anniversary of the establishment of Methodist missions in South Central Africa. He gave a brief review of the work and its extent, showing that there were not less than 1,000 native missionary preachers in that territory and that all were doing earnest and faithful work. He predicted even greater work proportionately during the coming few years, in that the opportunities are greater.
It is the purpose of the Methodist foreign mission board to raise a diamond jubilee fund of $20,000 and Rev. Springer is now canvassing the country in that interest.

COMPLETE THIRD GLOBE TROT
Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Keens of Kearney Pass Through Omaha After Year of World.
Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Keens of Kearney passed through Omaha on Wednesday's westbound Overland Limited train on their way home, completing the last stage of their third tour around the world.
Last year Mr. and Mrs. Keens toured Japan, China, Ceylon, Burma and India. This year they varied their usual tour by crossing the Sea of Japan to Vladivostok and continuing westward over the Transiberian railway through Manchuria and Siberia. They then spent a few weeks in St. Petersburg, Moscow, Warsaw and Berlin.
Mr. Keens, although a great lover of Japan, declared that after making the long trip across the Pacific it is time and opportunity lost to return straight from Japan when so much of interest lies beyond.

IRVINE GETS OFF EASILY
Colored Man's Attorney Talks Jury Into Light Penalty on Breaking and Entering Charge.
Thanks to an hour and one-half plea by his attorney William Irvine, a colored man, escaped lightly to district court yesterday. Irvine was tried on an information charging him with breaking and entering the home of Mrs. Martha Banks, where he stole a fur coat and two gowns.
The jury, after several hours' debate, brought in a verdict of guilty of petit larceny and recommended the extreme penalty for this. Stanley Rosewater, Irvine's attorney, waived a motion for a new trial and Irvine was given thirty days by Judge Sutton.
HIGH SCHOOL DINNER AT ROME
Seniors Will Have Annual Feast on Evening Following Graduation, Flothow as Toastmaster.
Seniors of the Omaha high school will hold their annual banquet at the Rome on the evening following graduation. About 250 will attend and Max Flothow will be toastmaster.
The senior breakfast was planned for yesterday morning, but postponed on account of interference with school. It will be held May 21.
Tickets for the inter-high school debate between Chicago and Omaha will go on sale this morning. The debate will be held at Creighton university auditorium, Friday, June 4.

THIRD OPERATION PREVENTED
By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Chicago, Ill.—"I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was so sick that two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation. I had already had two operations, and they wanted me to go through a third one. I suffered day and night from inflammation and a small tumor, and never thought of seeing a well day again. A friend told me how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her, and I tried it, and after the third bottle was cured."—Mrs. ALVINA SPERLING, 11 Langdon Street, Chicago, Ill.
If you are ill do not drag along at home or in your place of employment until an operation is necessary, but build up the feminine system, and remove the cause of those distressing aches and pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.
For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, natulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

WAIVER WANTED AT HAVERLY HOTEL.
Wanted—John G. at the Greer hotel. Jetter's Gold Top Beer delivered to any part of the city. Telephone No. 3.
W. P. Adkin left last evening for Chicago, where he goes on a business trip. Officer Todd was taken ill on his beat yesterday morning and had to be taken home.
Levi Proudfoot caught twenty-five crabs and snuff at Seymour lake yesterday afternoon.
The South Omaha Board of Fire and Police Commissioners met Wednesday morning and granted licenses to Frank Mack and Earl Van to run saloons.
Mrs. F. J. Preiss, 522 North Twentieth street, reported to the police that her clothes press had been visited and a number of articles of wearing apparel were stolen.
The contractors for the N street guich sewer have advanced the work to firm ground again and the compressed air is no longer necessary. The work is progressing very rapidly.
Edward and Patrick Broderick were dismissed from the charge of highway robbery in the case of the Jay last Sunday afternoon, for want of evidence to connect them with the crime.
A. J. Surack, attorney, and J. J. Fitzgerald, secretary of the South Omaha Building and Loan association, left last night for St. Louis to attend the state convention of building and loan associations.
A surprise party was given in honor of the birthday of Miss Mattie Richart, at her home, 218 North Twenty-first street, Tuesday evening. A large number of guests attended and enjoyed the evening greatly.
The new car to Ralston is making trips on the half-car regularly. The car does not make the whole trip to Ralston, but only to the bridge at the mouth of Seymour lake. It is expected by Sunday the lake will have been reached and trips will be made to the Burlington crossing at Seymour lake.

Local Company to Protest.
It has been definitely stated by the representatives of the South Omaha Electric Light and Power company that a protest will be filed against the action of the city council in awarding the contract for public lighting to the Omaha Electric Light and Power company. It requires a protesting petition signed by 5 per cent of the legal voters of the city to stop the execution of the contract and to force the same to be submitted at a special election at the expense of the Omaha Electric Light and Power company. It has been demonstrated that that number of names can be easily secured in the past, because the company agrees to furnish commercial lighting cheaper by 3 cents per kilowatt hour. It follows, in all probability, that with the presentation of the legal protest, the Omaha company may withdraw from the competition rather than face a losing issue at the polls.
Girls to Play Basket Ball.
The girls of the South Omaha high school will play their first basket ball game Friday evening at 8:15, at the Young Men's Christian association gymnasium. Owing to the fact that there is no gymnasium in connection with the high school, no attempt has ever been made by girls to play basket ball before.
Through the kindness of the present Young Men's Christian association authorities, the girls have been allowed the privilege of using the gymnasium. They have been practicing faithfully in order that the first exhibition game should ever played in South Omaha be a success.
They have organized teams, two of which, the Reds and the Blues, will afford the people of South Omaha the first opportunity of seeing a game of girls' basket ball at home.
Medames, E. E. Carter, C. W. Knight, J. C. Kilduff, J. M. Mullin, Rudolph Teichout, N. M. Graham and Perry McD. Wheeler will act as patronesses.
Falls Off Street Car.
Mike Burlipaky, living at 2504 South Twenty-sixth street, Omaha, fell off a moving street car at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday, just north of L street on Twenty-fourth and received painful injuries, consisting of numerous bruises and a simple fracture of the small bone of the leg. He is said to have disputed with the conductor and to have been put off forcibly, or at least to have been in a struggle and fell off. He was taken to Bolten's barn near the scene of the accident. Dr. W. J. McCrann attended him and later took him to his home in Omaha, where a foreigner and speaks broken English.
Charged with Stealing Grain.
The police arrested Joseph Mahoschek and Ignas Meetus last night on charge of breaking and entering a freight car belonging to the Burlington railroad. The men, after breaking into the car, took a large quantity of oats. It was a car belonging to the Peters Alfalfa Milling company lying on a siding near the ruined plant. The men are Polish or Lithuanian, living near the locality. Anna West and Mrs. Toney Schaefer were also arrested for taking grain after the car was broken. The charge against the women is petit larceny. The charge against the men may result in imprisonment in the state penitentiary.
Gretta Kent Cared For.
The juvenile court authorities succeeded last night in locating Gretta Kent, a girl of 12 years, who has been away from her home in South Omaha for a week. She was found in Council Bluffs. She was brought to the Detention home in Omaha. The parents of the child are very anxious that she should be returned to them, but on reporting the case to the juvenile authorities, said the girl was incorrigible, or at least rebellious. The juvenile authorities refused to return the girl to her home until they are satisfied that she will behave properly in the future and that the home is calculated to make the girl better.
Burning Auto Raises Alarm.
Ed. Phelan's big Oldsmobile took fire at Twenty-third and N streets, South Omaha, last evening. The flames burst out in the engine beneath the shield. For a short time it looked as if the whole machine would be consumed. The gasoline tank was in danger of exploding, but fortunately did not do so. As soon as the inflammable gasoline and oil about the engine was consumed the flames subsided. In the meantime two South Omaha fire departments were called out and made record runs. When they arrived the danger was passed. The damage to the machine will not exceed $50. It was thought to have been caused by superheating of the engine.

KEENAN DENIES EVERYTHING
Defendant on Stand at Bribery Hearing.
CONNELL AND GROSS TESTIFY
Street Car Company Men Enter Explanations as to Meeting with Jurors After Verdict Their Way in Stewart Case.
Five witnesses were introduced by the defense in the Keenan hearing yesterday afternoon. Of these the hearing, W. J. Connell and Arthur Gross, respectively counsel and an agent for the street car company, were the principal witnesses in behalf of the accused man. With this testimony the defense rested, the state announced one witness in rebuttal and the case went over until Friday morning.
The testimony of W. J. Connell had chiefly to do with the meeting of himself and Gross with Barrett and Van Cleave, the two jurors appearing for the state. Gross' statements also covered this.
Besides this testimony the defendant himself denied all the incriminating conversation alleged by the two jurors and explained his transactions with them in detail. Gross' appearance was noteworthy by a denial by him in answer to a question by A. W. Jeffers of Keenan's counsel that he had ever retained Keenan to act for the street car company in any way whatever. Gross was subjected to a lengthy cross examination by County Attorney English, the latter hinting at a promissory note or notes alleged to have been made to Keenan by Gross. Gross would not deny positively that he had ever uttered a note in Keenan's favor, but declared that he had not to the best of his recollection.
Always Qualifies Answer.
Back and forth over this the examination went for many minutes, the county attorney persistently desiring to get Gross to assert flatly that he had never signed a note to Keenan, and Gross insisting that he had not, but always adding the qualification, "I think not," or "to the best of my recollection."
When Connell first took the stand Jeffers asked him if he was counsel for the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company.
"I am," said the witness.
"Mr. Connell," said Jeffers, "you fight hard for your client when you have a case, but you always do it to the open."
"Yes," said the witness, "and I never try to stab a man in the back."
English objected, but the answer went.
On direct examination Connell deposed that he and Gross had left the court house after hearing the verdict in the Stewart case and were on their way to Sixteenth street when the two jurors met them at the corner of Farnam by the Smith-Premier company's office.
"Gross also remarked," said the witness, "for he said to me 'Here are a couple of the jurors.' We stopped and I said to them 'Well, I see you are through serving your county and are out again.' This caused a smile."
When Gross detailed this conversation the county attorney asked him if "they laughed heartily at this?" Gross replied that they had not, and denied that the amusement was of a levitical nature.
Connell then told of the rest of his conversation with Barrett and Van Cleave. Van Cleave, he said, volunteered that the plaintiff had no case, and the foreman, who had appeared to be for the plaintiff, finally stated that he had been for the defendant all along, but had taken the other tack just to see how the jury stood. "It would have made no difference with me if he had been there till morning," said Van Cleave. "I would have stayed with him."
The witness went on to say that he had declared that this was "a holdup case," and speaking of the street car cases generally had said that at one time there had been 137 against the company, but they had been reduced to about thirty. The witness denied explicitly that he had said to the jurors "I hope you will be with us the rest of the term," and Gross also denied that he himself said this or that Connell had said it.
Keenan's testimony covered meetings with Barrett and Van Cleave and included denials that he had mentioned the street car company, had even known that the case before Judge Day was a street car case, had said "there is a piece of money in it for you" and in short denied all the testimony of the witnesses for the state which in any way incrimulated him. The witness gave an apparently straightforward account of his purchase of the warrants of both.

LIEUTENANT WARE
Talks of Ballooning
Explosion Tells Church Club About It.
Lieutenant J. E. Ware, an officer in the service at Fort Omaha, who, with Captain Wheeler, recently made the flight in the war balloon from Fort Omaha to a point near Sioux City, spoke most entertainingly Wednesday night at the Hotel Rome at the banquet of the Nebraska Church club.
R. S. Hall, president of the club, acted as toastmaster and Bishop Williams, a large number of clergymen, Mayor Dahlman and about 150 guests gathered around the banquet table.
Lieutenant Ware illustrated his lecture with stereoscopic views of the photographs of the country between Omaha and Sioux City as taken from the balloon. He told of the different instruments carried in the balloon for measuring speed, height, etc., and told of the various sensations experienced by a man making his first flight. His description of the way the balloon happened to explode was listened to most attentively, as it was the first explosion of the kind recorded in America.
LARGER FIELD OF WORK IS KEYNOTE OF THE COUNCIL
More Missions Advocated by Bishop Williams in the Omaha Episcopal Diocese.
Rev. W. H. Mason was elected secretary and Rev. John A. Williams assistant secretary of the Episcopal diocesan council. At the close of the evening meeting Wednesday a telegram of greeting was sent to Mrs. Worthington, widow of the late Bishop Worthington.
In his address before the council Bishop Williams suggested the creation of additional missions in Omaha, one at Dundee, one at East Omaha and another in the vicinity of Twenty-fourth street and Ames avenue. He advised that lots for mission purposes be secured at these points as early as possible. He commended the growth of the work at Brownell Hall, and announced that $20,000 remained yet to be raised for the completion of Clarkson Memorial Hospital. He urged the need of a city missionary for Omaha, and spoke of the need of additional clergy.
Other speakers at the meeting were Rev. C. C. Rollet, secretary of the sixth department of the board of missions; Rev. J. H. Koehler, missionary to the deaf and dumb, and W. A. Haberton, field secretary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.
The sessions of the council were resumed Thursday morning, the business being confined to diocesan matters and the necessity for increased work throughout the entire diocese.
The delegates were entertained at luncheon at noon in the parish house.

WAS ILL AND UNABLE TO WORK
South Omaha Electric Light and Power Company Will Protest Award of Electric Lighting Contract.
Joseph Trecek, 2612 Z street, committed suicide yesterday at 5 p. m. by firing a revolver bullet into his right temple. He was a man of 35 years and lately had been in ill health and unable to work. While his son was at the packing houses working he took the revolver and, going into the cellar of the house, braced the door shut with a heavy key and fired the shot. When the son returned from work he found his father dead. He called the neighbors and the police. The police arrived and found William Crawford, living at 2624 Z. He said he had heard a shot about 5 p. m., but could not locate the sound and paid no attention to it. It is believed that this must have been the shot which Trecek fired. Mary Abernathy also heard the shot and described the time as about 5 p. m.
Trecek was a laboringman, and had been confined in a hospital lately. He had become discouraged and imagined he was in the way. The body was taken in charge by Heafey & Heifer. The inquest will be held at 10 a. m. today.
He is survived by two daughters and his son, Joseph Trecek, jr.

SINCERE EXTENSIVE

Plenty of other factories get cloths from the same mills that we do, but then, we vastly improve the fabrics—we put them through the London process—it keeps shrinking the woollens until there isn't a hair's breadth of stretch in them. That's why Sincerity Clothes hold their shape. Modeling stays in the exact spots where it was first put—stretching and tugging won't unbalance it. If wearing clothes that look the same as long as you own them is an advantage, then it's well worth while to find a shop with a Sincerity stock. The young men's models are different, not only in pattern, but also in proportion. Prices in proportion too.
